Pacific Express Ran Into a Landslide
Shortly Before Midnight—Locomotive Leaped into the River.Poughkeepsie, N. Y., July 30.—Engineer Wells of the Pacific express, which was wrecked last night, died early this morning, making three fatalities so far.
Of the 30 injured, 35 are seriously hurt and some may die. The wrecked train was No. 37, which left New York at 9:32 last night. It ran into a landslide near tower 53, a short distance above Chelsea, 11 miles below this city, shortly before midnight.During the afternoon and night heavy rains undermined the embankment on the east side of the tracks and shortly before the arrival of train 37, tons of earth and rock slid out on to the roadbed, covering the northbound track.
The express train was going at a lively rate of speed when the engine plunged into the mass of earth and stone.The locomotive gave one leap into the air, turned turtle and rolled over into the river. The baggage car, which was the first car of the train, was thrown up against the embankment, the parting of the couplings preventing it following in the path of the locomotive. The heavy trucks of the baggage car and first coach sank into the pile of earth and brought the remainder of the train to a stop. The passengers were thrown violently about the cars, many of them suffering cuts and bruises.PANAMA ENGINEERS were 32 persons on one yacht, of whom seven were lost, and 12 on the other, all of whom but one were saved. That no more fell victims to the rough sea was due to the heroism of Captain Henry S. Ludlam, of the Hordford inlet

REMAINS UNCHANGEDNo Disturbances Yesterday — One Serious, Perhaps Fatal, Accident Happened Last Night.New Bedford, Mass., July 30.—There was no change in the strike situation today.There was not the least semblance of a disturbance throughout the day yesterday, in any section of the city. The striking trolley men held a meeting in the afternoon and it was declared afterwards that the strike was not larger.
The strikers said that they have no information that any of their numbers have gone back to work, and that all have attended union meetings regularly, but, according to the company officials, at least eight have applied for reinstatement.Yesterday the police continued to ride one of the cars of the Purchase street line, but in the day.Mayor Thompson said last night that he had done all in his power to bring about an agreement but without success, and indicated that he knew not what more could be done in that direction. The mayor said he had not received a visit from a committee of the merchants club, though it had been reported that such a committee was to be sent to interview him, their purpose being to see why the running of cars by strike breakers could not be prevented.The first serious accident in the operation of cars by strike-breaking motor-men happened late last night, when a man believed to be Henry Hart of 121 F. chase street, was run over and probably fatally injured by a Purchase street car on Aschmet avenue, near the corner of Coggeshall street. The motor-man, who gave his name as James A.
Parker, is under arrest.COTTON MILL OPERATIVES

This Morning.Canonsburg, Pa., July 30.—Elmer Dempester, a negro, aged 19, was arrested this morning for the murder of Samuel Pearce and her two children, for the shooting of a third last evening. Dempester is said to have confessed to the officers that the crime was the result of his own brutal treatment of Pearce, a 4-year old, whom he had abused several times lately. The child told her mother and when the latter remonstrated with the negro the shooting began.When Pearce, who is a well known resident of Washington county, returned to his home from a drive last night, he found his wife, aged 25 years, and two children dead and a third dying been made to set fire to the house, but Pearce arrived in time to extinguish the blaze that had been started in a bedroom.

Ernest Voss, 43 years of age, was found burned to a crisp in the ruins of A post mortem examination revealed fifteen pellets of metal in the body near the back bone.

COULD SWIM A LITTLE

Was Out on Pond With Four Companions and Jumped into Water That Was Over Her Head—Teacher in Hoosick, N. Y.Bennington, July 30.—With full confidence in her ability to swim Miss Helen Tomlinson, a member of a camping party at Woodford, a short distance from this place, jumped boldly from a boat into the pond and was drowned yesterday afternoon. The body was recovered in a short time but the efforts at resuscitation were of no avail.Four companions were with the victim, three young ladies and a young man, and they did not realize until too late the plight of their friend. When Miss Tomlinson jumped from the boat her body struck the water and she was it is probable that she was partially stunned by the force of the blow. Her body remained for a time partially submerged and her companions did not think anything of it because the young lady could swim slightly. When the body began to sink, however, they made haste to rescue her. The water was about six feet deep and the body was easily brought to the surface within a few minutes.Miss Tomlinson was 23 years of age and her home was in Hoosick, N. Y. She was engaged in teaching in Wallingford, a part of Hoosick. The other members of the camping party were from Bennington.CATHOLIC CONVENTION day appointed chief of general staff to Rabbits Destroying Gardens.

Rabbits are becoming a pest in some sections of the state. Bitter complaints of their ravages are made in Bennington county. One man in Dorset has lost one thousand pound of cabbage by them and another fifty. There is no way of preventing their depredations, for they work mostly at night, and the law does not allow them to be shot until September 1. The great number is due to the fact that many large brown ones, brought as pets, were turned loose, and many Belgian hares were freed after it had been found unprofitable to rear them.

Barnet Boy Drowned.

Lawrence Planders, the fifteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Planders of Barnet, was drowned at Bellows-Falls, N. H., about a week ago. He was out to swim drowned before help could reach him. The boy had been in Bethlehem only a week, going there to be employ-the season.

AGAINST FILTRATIONWill Probably Vote Down Proposition to Expand $75,000 Filtration Plant, at City Meeting.Burlington, July 30.—It looks now very much as though the citizens of Burlington would turn down very emphatically the proposition to bond the city for $75,000 to establish a filtration plant to purify the city's water supply, which question will be brought up at a special citizens' meeting here next week Tuesday night. The board of aldermen has recommended such a plant as the most feasible way out of the difficulty of improving the water supply, but they have put it up to the voters for final action.
The state board is after the water in Lake Champlain red hot and there have been several lively little interviews between the mayor of the city and Dr.
Hollon, secretary of the state board.
Somebody must be made to see the quickly, says the board of health or it will do dire things.The various committees appointed to investigate the matter of solving this problem of a pure water supply have all come around to the idea of a filtration plant but there is much disagreement at first over the idea. But the people are not at all sure that this is the best way out of it. At least they believe that it is not the cheapest way.
They think that the water is not so black as it has been painted and point to the fact that there is not now a single case of typhoid fever in the city. But proof of their contention and the death rate has not increased visibly for some years.DROVE ON THE TRACK IN FRONT OF TRAINRaymond Mumbley of Fowler and Florence Cota of Middlebury Struck and Latter Died This Morning.Middlebury, July 30.—Miss Florence Cota of this place, aged 18 years, who was struck by a Rutland railroad train at Essex's crossing, near Belknap's station, and about five miles north of Middlebury, while driving with Raymond Mumbley last evening, died at the Proctor hospital this morning. Mumbley will recover.Mumbley, a recently married man, and Cota, a recently married woman, were driving directly in front of the train.
The horse was out in two and the wagon demolished. The train was stopped and the two young people picked up and taken to the hospital. They were removed to the Proctor hospital at Proctor.Dr. S. S. Eddy, L. P. Dorey and D.
C. Noble of this village made a superficial examination of the two victims at Middlebury, but could not ascertain much about their condition. It was then believed Miss Cota was fatally injured, her wounds being principally internal. Mumbley sustained fractures of both legs, besides bruises of different portions of the body.
Mr. Mumbley and the young woman are understood to have been engaged to be married and he had been making a call at the home of Miss Cota. They were returning from a drive about the country when the accident happened.
He is about 21 years of age and the young lady was 18. Both were highly respected persons in the community and were members of St. Mary's Catholic church; the former also being a member of Addison Court of Foresters.

MANY BUILDINGS BURNED

Five Cows Killed at Williamstown — Two Times in North Montpelier — Other Places
Suffer.Electrical storms of great intensity passed over the middle eastern section of Vermont Saturday night and again Sunday afternoon, doing many thousands of dollars of damage to buildings and growing crops. Lightning struck in Randolph, Brookfield, Tainbridge, Royalton, North Montpelier, Montpelier and other places. No lives were lost, but cattle, horses and other animals were destroyed.In Barre no buildings were struck, but telephone service was crippled in many houses, while some trees were blown down.In North Montpelier lightning struck in two places, the barn of A. I. Greene and the horse barn of T. L. Lawless. The former was burned to the ground with most of the contents, but no damage was done at the latter. Ethan Jones of Royalton lost a barn and most of the contents yesterday. Edwin Larkin of Tainbridge lost a barn, it having been struck by lightning. In Brookfield Ar-same cause. A house in Brookfield owned by Mrs. Almida Cone was struck, but the only damage done was the toppling over of the chimney.At the farm of William Hopkins in Williamstown three cows and two yearlings were struck by lightning and killed. They were in a pasture.

The Montpelier fire alarm was put completely out of commission Saturday night by the lightning. First Assistant C. S. Whittier and George H. Almon got it to working Sunday morning, but it was again partially crippled during the storm of yesterday afternoon. The officials hope to have it in shape by late today. A bolt of lightning struck the Viles electric light system Saturday evening and burned out a transformer on Leona street and also several fuses.
A Viles pole on Winslow's street was also struck and the pole was partially burned.Mr. and Mrs. Elmer E. Brown were rendered unconscious by a particularly heavy charge which entered their house over the telephone wire but they had recovered today. In the neighborhood of the Pavilion hotel there was considerable alarm Saturday night over one bolt contents, including about 40 tons of hay, several hogs, a few calves and about 300 hens and chickens. The farming tools, which were all new last year, were also destroyed.When the barn was struck a fire alarm was sounded on the Orange county telephone lines and neighbors came to the rescue in time to save the house and contents. Mr. Green purchased the place a year ago last spring of the Fred Snow estate. He was about half through with his hay and the half that was in the barn was destroyed. The horses in the
